Who can really explain the feeling, the desire to be something more For me, it is a strange sort of tugging, like all of me isnt really here, as if that missing piece is really somewhere else, engaging in the future that I hope to one day be part of. I know I am meant for something more. I cant really explain it, at least not in words, but I know there has to be more to life than what my eyes can see, than what my mind can understand. My heart tells me so. And arent people always saying to follow your heart Its a golden rule or something. Unfortunately, my life is still mostly normal. Im the oldest of two children. My family is pretty wealthy, thanks to my dads CEO position for his software company Cabbot Industries. Although he is an owner, he loves being hands-on and part of the action. We dont have much to worry about in the way of finances, but we pay for it with Dads constant absence. Hes always away for work and business, typically halfway across the world. I trudge my way downstairs, fighting back the desire to rush back up to my room, jump in bed, and hide under the covers. I shake it off, telling myself, Less than five months of school left, Elle. You can do it. Stifling a yawn, I walk into the kitchen. Denney, my fifteen-year-old little brother, is sitting at the kitchen table, eating a bowl of cereal. He gives me a small smile in acknowledgment, showing a little too much of his breakfast. I turn to the breadbox on the bakers rack and pull out a bagel. After popping it...
